

OLD COMPANY REINTEGRATED

The Oldest Military Organization in the State Again Belongs to the National Guard.

THE INSANE ASYLUM FULL

Built by Sheriff on Account of the Jim Crow Car Law. Eat Souse.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 18.—Adjutant General B. H. Hoyer issued an order this morning reinstating the military company of Lumber Bridge, Robeson county, as a member of the North Carolina National Guard. The company was disbanded after the last visitation by a government inspector, because it failed to have the minimum number of men in ranks for the inspection.

This company enjoys the distinction of being the oldest military organization in the State, having records of service running back into the colonial period. One of the saddest cases seen in Raleigh for many years was that to-day when a young woman wildly insane was brought here for treatment in the Central State Hospital and had to be carried back to her home in Pine Bluff because every ward in the female department was occupied. She is the daughter of the Rev. Carson Powell, Baptist missionary, who a few months ago became insane while on the voyage home from foreign lands and seizing one of his smaller children, leaped overboard, both being drowned.

DISPENSARY COMMISSIONERS.
It is announced that the newly appointed dispensary commissioners will hold their first meeting for organization and the election of the managers or keepers of the dispensaries, which open January 1st, on Friday, of this week.

A charge trial began in the Raleigh County Jail today when Sheriff B. A. Salmon and his deputy, J. B. Lanier, sue the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company for $2,000 damages, each, for being forced by a conductor to ride in the second-class colored coach for the reason that they lay in their custody four negro prisoners.

The sheriff bought second-class tickets but demanded that they be allowed to take their prisoners into the second-class white car. The conductor told the sheriff and his deputy could not take their prisoners with them.

RALEIGH CHAMBER.
At a meeting of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, held last night, Judge T. H. B. Womack was elected president, succeeded by Mr. Frank Ward. Congressman John H. Small was endorsed for a position on the River and Harbor Committee of Congress and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for holding a banquet for the business men of Raleigh on New Year's night.

The Western North Carolina Negro Methodist Conference convenes in this city to-night. There are seventy-seven ministers in the conference. One of its most important charges is the college at Kittrell, of which Mr. Washington Duke is one of the trustees.

VOLUME OF INSURANCE.
The volume of the insurance business done in North Carolina is shown in a compilation just made by the State Insurance Commissioner, giving the aggregate of all the business done by the insurance companies doing business in the State. The total life insurance other than by secret orders, in force in the State is $32,254,877.39; premiums receipts during the year $2,602,864.97. Total fire insurance premiums $1,387,187.15; paid during the year $720,371.67. Fraternal insurance in force $24,233.95; assessments collected $216,791.85; losses paid $231,270.63.

The teachers and officers of the State school for the blind, who were here last night, were entertained by a very hearty and hospitable reception by the attending physician, Miss Anderson, of the music faculty, is still quite ill.

It develops that fifteen were ill in all and the death of several was feared. Several times during Sunday night, none of the pupils ate any of the souse. A chemist is analyzing some of it to ascertain if possible the trouble.

CAUGHT UP WITH HIM.

Man Wanted in Greensboro Arrested in Gastonia.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., Nov. 18.—Squibs Collins on yesterday received a telegram from the chief of police of Gastonia, saying that James F. Rowe, a white man, wanted here on the charge of larceny, had been abandoned by his wife under arrest at that place. Deputy Sheriff W. J. Dacey left for Gastonia last night to get the prisoner.

Rowe has a wife and family living in proximity at the present time. It was said who were out of the woman against him. She says that Rowe stole about five hundred dollars from her and then abandoned her. Rowe left her something over a month ago and since that time the officers have been trying to locate him, but were unsuccessful until yesterday. He was caught up with by a letter he wrote to a friend in this city. He headed the letter as if it were written in Kentucky, but the postmark showed that it was mailed at Gastonia.

Wm. Mitchell and Sam Johnson were before the mayor yesterday afternoon

THE V. P. I. TEAM

Will Play Annapolis Saturday With Some of Best Men Out.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLACKSTONE, VA., Nov. 18.—The Virginia Tech eleven leaves Blackstone Friday, November 21st, for Annapolis, where the fifth of her scheduled games will be played against the naval cadets. The V. P. I. cadets took a decided brace after receiving her defeat from Virginia, and a week ago prospects were bright that she would be able to put up a splendid game against the midshipmen. But severe reverses have been brought on her by the disability and illness of several of her strongest players.

Carpenter, the star half-back of the South, and V. P. I.'s tower of strength in a recent line-up against the scrum team, in lacking a runner, received a severe blow on the head, which ruptured the covering of the brain, rendering him unconscious many hours, and compelling him to remain in confinement. Although the today the rest of the team are determined to do their best, knowing that a plucky defeat means no disgrace.

Fate has been so unkind as to disable two of V. P. I.'s strongest line men. Miles, her right tackle, is suffering from a wrenched knee, which keeps him out of the regular evening practice, while Abbott, right guard, has had a severe attack of tonsillitis, which keeps him confined in the hospital.

With such detriments the prospects of a successful game Saturday seems very blue indeed, but every care and attention is being given to the disabled men, and whether or not they are able to play in the rest of the team are determined to do their best, knowing that a plucky defeat means no disgrace.

And while not always painful as aggravating beyond expression. With few exceptions they are worse in spring and summer when the system begins to thaw out and the skin is reacting and making extra efforts to throw off the poisons that have accumulated during the winter. Then boils and pimples, rashes and eruptions of every conceivable kind make their appearance, and Eczema and Tetter—the twin terrors of skin diseases—'Nettle-rash, Poison Oak and Ivy, and such other skin troubles as usually remain quiet during cold weather, break out afresh to torment and distract by their fearful burning, itching and stinging. A course of S. S. S. now will purify and enrich the blood, reinforce and tone up the general system and stimulate the sluggish circulation, thus warding off the diseases common to spring and summer. The skin, with good blood to nourish it, remains smooth and soft and free of all disfiguring eruptions.

THEY BOTH WANT HIM

Father Trying to Recover Possession of Son, Who is Supporting His Mother.

THE LADIES ARE TO HELP

Meeting Will be Held in Interest of Jamestown Exposition—Taxes Reduced.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., November 18.—Chief of Police Johnson to-day received a letter from Tony Ryan, of Hot Springs, Ark., asking that his son, Johnny Ryan, be looked out for, and if caught, held for him. The letter went on to say that the boy was supposed to be in this neighborhood with his mother, who, the writer claims, deserted him.

An investigation revealed some interesting facts in connection with the case. The boy is performing at a Norfolk variety theatre, and has been there for several weeks. The mother has been living here for two or three years, and for the past month the child has contributed substantially to her support.

The woman claims that she was deserted by her husband, Tony Ryan, years ago, when they were both on the vaudeville stage, and when she was known as May Young. She says Ryan stole their small son from her and kept himself and the boy hidden from her for years. Later she left the stage, and has since supported herself by working as a domestic. In the meantime the boy developed a remarkably good voice, and for some time supported himself and his father by his vaudeville engagements. Recently, the woman goes on to say, the boy tried of his drunken father and ran off, going to the home of an aunt in Indiana. From his aunt he learned of his mother, and he at once came here to find her. Since that time he has been steadily employed at the Norfolk theatre.

Chief Johnson has decided to take no steps in the case.
